

Community Information Webpage

The Rockford Public Library community information webpage is a resource for locating information about organizations and businesses that serve the Rockford area. Non-profit, private or government entities wishing to establish a presence on the RPL community website may either provide a link to their website or apply for a simple webpage hosted by RPL.

Participating organizations:

- Must apply annually.
- Are responsible for their content and must maintain current information.
- May not engage in e-commerce on RPL's site.
- May not sell access to their information nor sell access to space on the RPL server.
- May not represent short-term issues such as elections or referenda, even if those websites are strictly informational.
- May not contain political content in violation of the State of Illinois Election Code (10 ILCS 5/9-25.1).

RPL does not endorse the content of organizational websites that provide information on this site nor their policies or products. As an organization serving audiences of all ages, RPL reserves the right of refusal as well as the right to edit and categorize any and all content on the community website.