History of the Grand Army of the Republic in Illinois.

By Robert Mann Woods, First Adjt. General of the Grand Army.

The Grand Army of the Republic was instituted and organized at Springfield, Ill., by Major Benjamin F. Stephenson, former Surgeon 14th Ill. Inf. Regiment. His immediate associates are indicated in the first order issued, as follows:

General Orders
No. 1

Headquarters Department of Illinois
Grand Army of the Republic
Adjutant General's Office.

Springfield, Ill., April 1st, 1866.

The following named officers are hereby announced on duty at these headquarters:

Colonel Jules C. Webber, Aid-de-Camp and Chief of Staff.

Major Robert M. Woods, Adjutant General.

Colonel John M. Snyder, Quartermaster General.

Lieutenant John S. Phelps, Aid-de-Camp.

Captain John A. Lightfoot, Assistant Adjutant General.

Robert M. Woods,
Adjutant General.

By order of
B. F. Stephenson,
Commanding Department.

Dr. Stephenson wrote the Ritual of the Order and Lieutenant Phelps went to Decatur, where he knew of a printing office run entirely by old soldiers, and had it printed. During the printing Lieutenant Phelps interested many soldiers at Decatur in the work. These veterans applied for a Charter as Post No. 1, which was granted and the Post was mustered in April 6, 1866.

The Declaration of Principles and the Constitution and By-Laws were written by Adjutant General Woods, who also wrote the Charter, forms of reports, etc.

The declaration of principles, which sets forth the objects and aims of the order, was as follows:

Constitution of the Grand Army of the Republic.

ARTICLE I.

Declaration of Principles.

SECTION I.—The soldiers of the Volunteer Army of the United States, during the rebellion of 1861-5, actuated by the impulses and convictions of patriotism and of eternal right, and combined in the strong bands of fellowship and unity by the toils, the dangers and the victories of a long and vigorously waged war, feel themselves called upon to declare in definite form of words and in determined co-operative action, those principles and rules which should guide the earnest patriot, the enlightened freeman and the Christian citizen in his course of action; and to agree upon those plans and laws which should govern them in a united and systematic working method with which, in some measure, shall be effected the preservation of the grand results of the war, the fruits of their labor and toil, so as to benefit the deserving and worthy.

SEC. 2.—The results which are designed to be accomplished by this organization are as follows:

First—The preservation of those kind and fraternal feelings which have bound together with the strong cords of love and affection the comrades in arms of many battles, sieges and marches.

Second—To make these ties available in works and results of kindness, of favor and material aid to those in need of assistance.

Third—To make provision, where it is not already done, for the support, care and education of soldiers' orphans, and for the maintenance of the widows of deceased soldiers.

Fourth—For the protection and assistance of disabled soldiers, whether disabled by wounds, sickness, old age or misfortune.

Fifth—For the establishment and defense of the late soldiery of the United States, morally, socially and politically with a view to inculcate a proper appreciation of their services to the country and a recognition of such services and claims by the American people.

To this section was added afterward: "But this Association does not design to make nominations for office or use its influence as a secret organization for partizan purposes."

The Indianapolis Convention added the word "sailors" where omitted in the Springfield Constitution and added a new section from the Constitution of the Loyal Legion, as follows:

Sixth—The maintenance of true allegiance to the United States of America, based upon paramount respect for and fidelity to the National Constitution and Laws, manifested by the discountenancing of whatever may tend to weaken loyalty, incite to insurrection, treason or rebellion, or in any manner impair the efficiency and permanency of our free institutions, together with a defense of universal liberty, equal rights and justice to all men.

The ideas upon which the order is founded, and which gave its wonderful success and stability differed from those held by the many other soldiers and sailors societies then springing up, in many ways; some of which are as follows:

First—It maintained the old army organization and names, such as Commander, Adjutant, Quartermaster, etc., forms familiar and dear to the veterans of long service.

Second—The prerequisite for admission was an honorable discharge from service, proof that the veteran had been convicted of no crime, thus making the membership a roll of honor.

Third—It obliterated all distinctions of rank in the army, navy or marine corps, making each member a comrade of equal rank.

Fourth—The moral, social and financial welfare of each comrade is guarded by the order. He is attended in sickness and old age by his comrades, and at last the Post gives every comrade an honorable burial.

Fifth—His grave is kept green, and at every recurring Memorial Day his grave is strewn with flowers and decorated with the flag of his country.

Sixth—His widow and orphans become the immediate care of the order and their welfare guarded and assured.

During the month of April, 1886, eight posts were organized and as they began practical work it was found that more Post officers were needed.

The following order provided for this deficiency:

General Orders
No. 2.

Headquarters Department of Illinois.
Grand Army of the Republic.
Springfield, Ill., May 1, 1866.

1. For the purpose of the further organization of this army the following named officers will be appointed, under Section 9, Article 3, of the Constitution and their names reported to these headquarters, viz.:

Assistant Post Commander.
Post Surgeon.
Post Chaplain.
Officer of the Day
Officer of the Guard.

II. The duties of the Assistant Post Commander are those of a vice-president.

III. It will be the duty of a Post Surgeon to examine and report on all cases presented for charity and assistance from the Post.

IV. The Post Chaplain will be present at all assemblies of the command and officiate in the proper duties of his office.

Official:

Robert M. Woods,
Adjutant General.

By order of
B. F. Stephenson,
Commanding Department.

By May 15 the Constitution and By-Laws were printed and sent to the different Posts, and from that time the organization proceeded rapidly. July 12, 1866, a "Convention" of the Grand Army of the Republic and Illinois soldiers and sailors was held in Springfield to further perfect the organization and secure recruits. The order then had sixty posts chartered in the Department. In this convention nearly every county in the State was represented and a permanent organization was effected by the election of the following Department officers:

John M. Palmer, Department Commander.
John Cook, Assistant Department Commander.
John C. Webber, Adjutant General.
John A. Lightfoot, Assistant Adjutant General.
John M. Snyder, Quartermaster General.

These officers vigorously prosecuted the work of organization and soon had posts in nearly every county in the State.

This left Commander-in-Chief Stephenson and Adjutant General Woods free to proceed with the organization of the other Departments. The Adjutant General was despatched to other States where he rapidly formed Departments and got them into working order.

Captain H. E. Howe was commissioned to organize Posts and Districts at Detroit, Mich.

Colonel Lloyd Wheaton was commissioned to organize Posts and Districts at Kalamazoo and other places in Michigan.

General W. Q. Gresham was commissioned to organize the Department of Indiana. He turned the work over to Colonel A. J. Hawhe who made some progress, but the Department was finally organized by General R. S. Foster and Major O. M. Wilson, who came to Springfield and got the work directly from Dr. Stephenson.

Colonel Add. H. Sanders and General Joseph D. Leake and others organized the Department of Iowa.

Colonel John M. Snyder, after organizing the Chicago Posts, went to St. Paul, Minn., and organized that Department, appointing General John B. Sanborn, Department Commander.

Adjutant General Woods went to Columbus and organized the Department of Ohio, appointing General Benj. F. Potts, Department Commander.

He visited Madison, Wis., and organized there, appointing General James K. Proudfit, Department Commander.

He also went to St. Louis, organizing the Department of Missouri, appointing General Thomas C. Fletcher, Department Commander. Governor Fletcher subsequently designated General John McNeil to take his place.

The organization of Departments proceeded so rapidly and successfully that by the 31st of October it was decided to proceed to perfect the National Organization. Commander-in-Chief Stephenson therefore issued a call for a National Convention to convene at Indianapolis, Ind., November 20th, 1866.

In this Convention ten Departments were represented and the organization received such an impetus that during the next year nearly every northern state organized a Department.

The following National Officers were elected:

Stephen A. Hurlbut, Illinois, Commander-in-Chief.

J. B. McKean, New York, Senior Vice-Commander-in-Chief.

R. S. Foster, Indiana, Junior Vice-Commander-in-Chief.

B. F. Stephenson, Illinois, Adjutant General.

Aug. Millich, Indiana, Quartermaster General.

D. C. McNeil, Iowa, Surgeon General.

Wm. A. Pile, Missouri, Chaplain-in-Chief.

From this date the Grand Army of the Republic became a National Organization, soon securing a membership of half a million veterans.

The membership of the order in Illinois reached its high water mark in 1889 with a membership of 36,824. Since that time the mortality has steadily decreased its numbers and on December 31, 1912, it numbered 14,328.

The Department Commanders in the Department of Illinois from the beginning to date are as follows:

Benjamin F. Stephenson, 1866.

Guy T. Gould, Chicago, 1873.

Hiram Hilliard, 1874-5-6.

Joseph S. Reynolds, Chicago, 1877.

Thomas B. Coulter, Aurora, 1878.

Edgar D. Swain, Chicago, 1879-80.

Albert L. Schimpff, Peoria, 1897.

John C. Black, Chicago, 1898.

John B. Inman, Springfield, 1899.

Joel M. Longenecker, Chicago, 1900.

Napoleon B. Thistlewood, Cairo, 1901.

Harvey M. Trimble, Princeton, 1902.

Benson Wood, Effingham, 1903.

Robert Mann Woods, Chicago, 1904.

John C. Smith, Chicago, 1905.

Edwin H. Buck, Rock Island, 1906.

Asa C. Matthews, Pittsfield, 1907.

Joseph Rosenbaum, Chicago, 1908.

Philip C. Hayes, Joliet, 1909.

James A. Connolly, Springfield, 1910.

Christopher C. Duffy, Ottawa, 1911.

Thomas H. Gault, Chicago, 1912.

Of these Benjamin F. Stephenson, Thomas G. Lawler, James A. Sexton, John C. Black and Harvey M. Trimble have been Commanders-in-Chief.

The Song: "ILLINOIS"

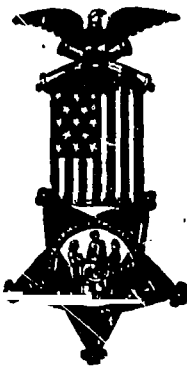

By thy rivers, gently flowing,
 Illinois, Illinois,
O'er thy prairies, verdant growing,
 Illinois, Illinois,
Comes an echo on the breeze,
Rustling through the leafy trees,
And its mellow tones are these,
 Illinois, Illinois,
And its mellow tones are these,
 Illinois.

From a wilderness of prairies,
 Illinois, Illinois,
Straight thy way and never varies,
 Illinois, Illinois,
Till upon the inland Sea,
Stands thy great commercial tree
Turning all the world to Thee,
 Illinois, Illinois,
Turning all the world to Thee,
 Illinois.

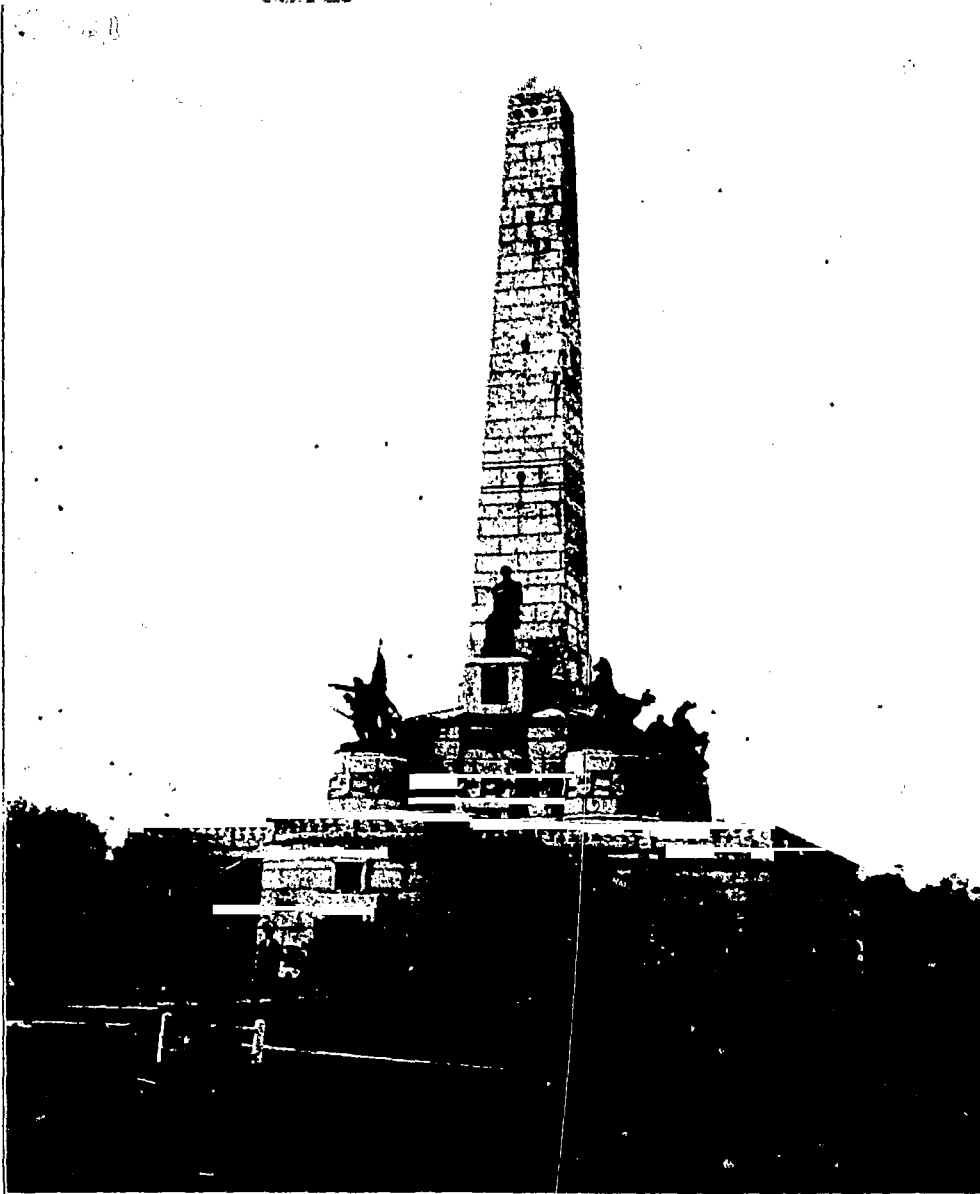

When you heard your country calling,
 Illinois, Illinois,
Where the shot and shell were falling,
 Illinois, Illinois,
When the Southern Host withdrew,
Pitting gray against the blue,
There were none more brave than you,
 Illinois, Illinois,
There were none more brave than you,
 Illinois.

Not without thy wondrous story,
 Illinois, Illinois,
Can be writ the Nation's glory,
 Illinois, Illinois,
On the record of thy years,
Abr'am Lincoln's name appears,
Grant, and Logan, and our tears,
 Illinois, Illinois,
Grant, and Logan, and our tears,
 Illinois.

The American Order Of Nobility.

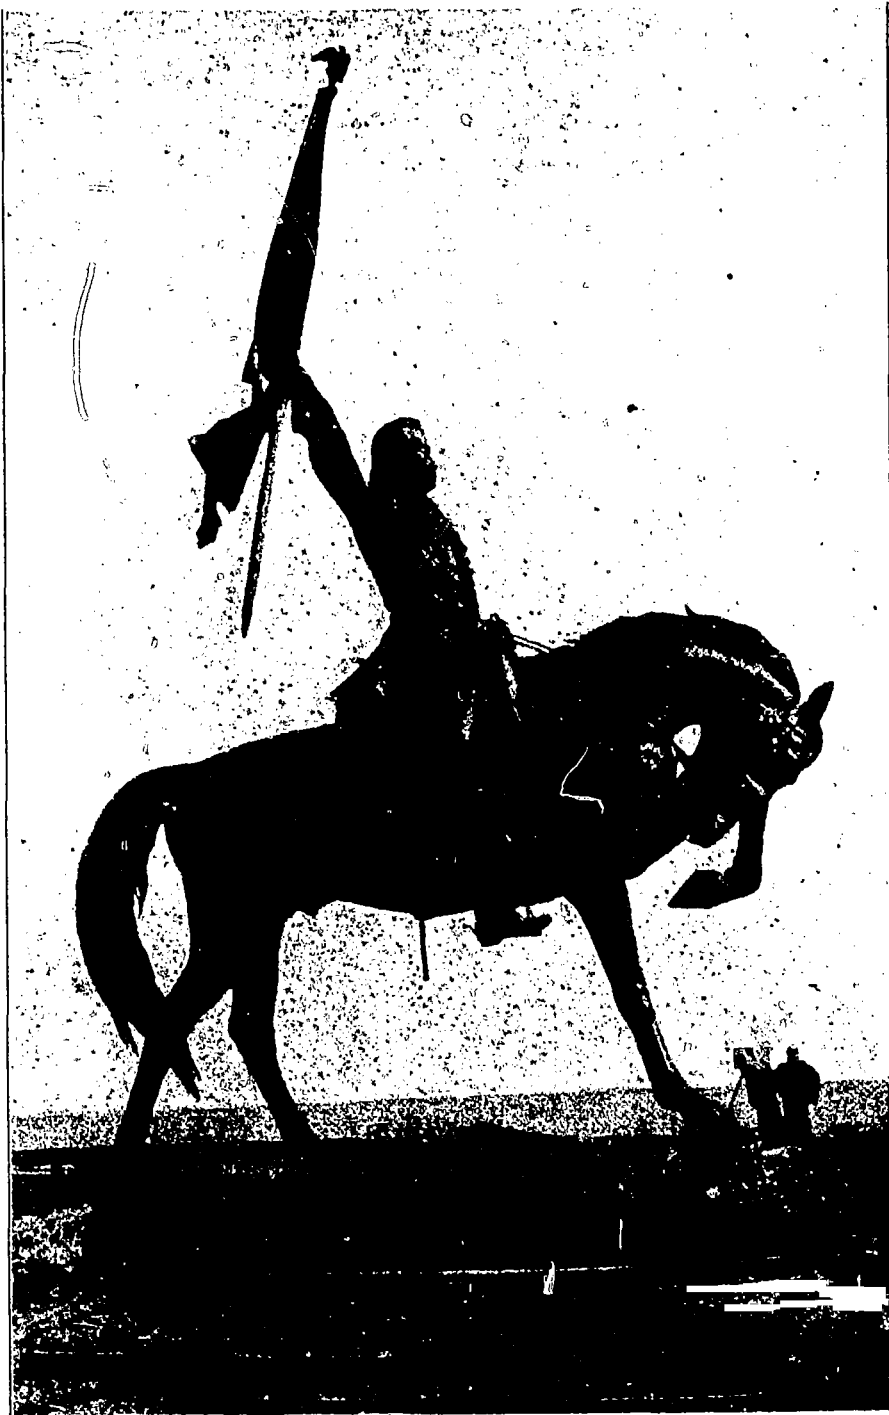

The Grand Army of the Republic is a unique organization. In the words of a Past Commander-in-Chief: "No child can be born into it; no proclamation of President, edict of King or Czar can command admission; no university or institution of learning can issue a diploma authorizing its holder to enter; no act of Congress or of Parliament secures recognition; the wealth of a Vanderbilt cannot purchase the position; its doors swing open only upon presentation of the bit of paper, torn, worn, begrimed it may be, which certifies to an honorable discharge from the armies or navies of the Nation during the war against Rebellion." And, unlike any other association, no "new blood" can come in," there are no growing ranks from which recruits can be drawn into the Grand Army of the Republic. With the consummation of peace through victory, its rolls were closed forever. Its lines are steadily and swiftly growing thinner, and the ceaseless tramp of its columns is with ever-lessening tread; the gaps in the picket line grow wider; day by day details are made from the reserve, summoned into the shadowy regions to return to touch elbows no more; until by-and-by, only a solitary sentinel shall stand guard, waiting till the bugle call from beyond shall muster out the last comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN STEPHENSON conceived the ideas upon which was formed the Grand Army of the Republic, the largest, most successful and most beneficial soldiers' society ever organized. Born in Wayne Co., Ill., Oct. 30, 1822. Became a Doctor of Medicine, graduated at Rush Medical College, Chicago, in 1850. Was appointed Asst. Surg. 14th Ill. Inf. May 25, 1861. Promoted Surgeon April 7, 1862, at Pittsburg Landing. Mustered out June 24, 1864. After the Army was mustered out Dr. Stephenson conceived the idea of forming the returned soldiers into a society for mutual protection and improvement, and to care for the widows and children of their comrades. He wrote a ritual for muster in purposes, and for the work of the organization. Arranged for a National, State, County and Town organizations, prescribing the method, constituency and officers of each. His first requirement was that each comrade must have an honorable discharge from the service; next, that all rank must be abolished in the meetings of the Order. He then arranged for the care of the comrades and their wives, widows and children, and, finally, that each comrade should have an honorable burial. He organized first, the Dept. of Ill., on April 1, 1866, and signed himself, Commanding Dept." He had his chosen friend, Gen'l John M. Palmer, elected Dept. Com'd'r at that Encampment. He then proceeded, as Com'd'r-in-Chief, organizing the other Depts., and called the first Nat'l Encampment of the Order to meet at Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20, 1866. Dr. Stephenson was urged to take the office of Com'd'r-in-Chief at this Encampment, but refused it, because, being a poor man, he could not afford to, but asked for the Adjt.-Generalship because that was to be a salaried position. During the year of Dr. Stephenson's incumbency as Adjt.-Gen'l, the entire receipts of the office were only $1,637.56, and the expenditures nearly double that amount, so that on the election of Gen'l Logan as Com'd'r-in-Chief at Philadelphia, and the removal of Headquarters to Washington, D. C., Dr. Stephenson decided to remain in Springfield and practice medicine. Died at Rock Creek, Menard Co., Aug. 30, 1871, in his 49th year, and is buried in the soldiers' section of the cemetery at Petersburg, where the Grand Army has erected a suitable monument.

STEPHEN A. HURLBUT, Major Gen'l U. S. Vols. Born at Charleston, S. C., Nov. 29, 1815. Raised the first company in the state of Illinois for the regular U. S. service, which afterwards became Co. B, 15th Regt. Ill. Vol. Inf. Was appointed Brig.-Gen'l of Vols. June, 1861, to rank from May, 1861. Commanded the 4th Div. at Pittsburg Landing and had the credit of forming the best line of battle and saving the Union Army at Shiloh, and for that occasion was promoted Maj.-Gen'l in Sept., 1862. Was assigned to the command of the 16th Army Corps at Memphis, and to the Command of the Dept. of the Gulf in 1864-'65. Honorably mustered out in July, 1865. Was the first Nat'l Commander of the Grand Army in 1867. Died suddenly of heart trouble at his post of duty March 23, 1882, at Lima, Peru.

GENERAL JOHN A. LOGAN.

GENERAL JOHN A. LOGAN. Rebellion of 1861-1866. Served as a private in 2d Mich. Vols. at the Battle of Bull Run, Va., July 21, 1861. Col. 31st Ill. Vols. Aug. 16, 1861. 1st Brig., 1st Div. Army of the Tennessee, Oct. 14, 1861. Belmont, Mo., Nov. 7. Capture of Ft. Henry, Tenn., Feb. 8, 1862. Fort Donelson, Feb. 13-15. Wounded twice. Brig.-Gen. U. S. Vols. March 15. In command of 1st Brig., 1st Div., Reserve Army of Tenn. April 1862. Siege of Corinth, Miss. April 30, May 30. In command of Post at Jackson, Tenn., June-Nov., 1862. Yocumatanza Expedition, Dec. 5-22, 1862. In command of 3rd Div., Right Wing, Army of Tenn., Nov. 1, 1862. Promoted to Maj.-Gen'l U. S. Vols. Nov. 23d, and given command of 3d Div., 17th Corps, Army of the Tenn. Jan. 11, 1863, which he commanded during operations on Lake Providence Canal March to April, 1863. Passage of the Mississippi River, taking Port Gibson May 1, 1863. Operations on Bayou Pierre May 2. Ingram Heights May 3. Raymond May 12. Jackson May 14. Champion Hills May 16. Siege of Vicksburg May 19. Assault May 19-22. Began mining Fort Hill June 25th, forcing fall of Fort Hill and surrender of Vicksburg, marching through crater of Fort Hill, his command hoisting flag on the State House in the city of Vicksburg July 4, 1863. Military Gov. of Vicksburg from July to Nov., 1863. Transferred to command of 15th Corps Dec. 11, 1863, commanding that Corps in all its engagements from that date until Sept. 23, 1864. Jan. 28, 1864, he again assumed command of the 15th Corps and commanded it in the following engagements: Rocky Face Ridge, Ga., May 5-9. Snake Creek Gap May 8. Sugar Valley May 10. Camp Creek Hills May 13-14. Battle of Resaca May 13-15. Battles around Dallas May 28-June 4. Wounded May 28. Big Kennesaw Mt. June 15. Little Kennesaw Mt. June 15. Wounded June 20. Siege of Atlanta, Ga., July 28, Sept. 2. Utoy Creek Aug. 5-6. Jonesboro Aug. 31, Sept. 1. Fall of Atlanta Sept. 2. Campaign of the Carolinas Jan. to May, 1865. Combahee River, S. C., Jan. 25. Passage of the Salkahatchie Feb. 3-9. Congaree River Feb. 15. Columbia, S. C., Feb. 16-17. Lynch and Black Creek Great Pedee River, Mar. 5-8. Battle of Bentonville, N. C., Mar. 19-21. Passage of the Neuse River April 10. Surrender of Johnston April 26. In command of the Army of the Tennessee May 19. Grand Review, Washington, D. C., May 24. Resigned Aug. 17, 1865. After General Logan's return to Carbondale, Ill., he received a communication from Chaplain Rutledge and also from Maj. B. F. Stephenson, who wished him to come to Springfield, Ill., to take part in a conference which was to be held in that city to formulate a ritual that would serve the high and noble purposes they had in mind for the organization of the Grand Army of the Republic. In March, 1866, this conference was held, and Gen. Logan, in company with such men as Col. J. M. Snyder, Dr. James Hamilton, Maj. Robert M. Woods, Maj. Robert Allen, Col. Martin Flood, Col. Daniel Grass, Col. Edward Price, Capt. S. Phelps, Capt. John A. Lightfoot, Col. B. F. Smith, Maj. A. F. North, Capt. Henry F. Howe, and Lieut. B. F. Hawks (since Colonel), helped in perfecting the ritual, charter and by-laws for the Order. On the 6th of April, 1866, Major Stephenson, by virtue of his authority as Departmental Com'd'r of Ill., having been so elected at the first meeting in Springfield, went to Decatur and, assisted by Capt. Phelps, organized the first Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, the charter members being Capt. M. F. Kana, Maj. G. H. Steele, Capt. Geo. H. Cunningham, Gen. Isaac C. Pugh, Maj. John H. Hale, Capt. J. T. Bishop, Capt. Christian Hebsame, Dr. J. W. Routh, Dr. B. P. Sibley, Isaac N. Coltrin, Sergt. J. M. Prior and Lieut. Aquilla Toland, all of whom had been in the service of their country and keenly alive to the importance of the orders by the Declaration of Principles expressed in the Constitution of the Grand Army of the Republic. The first National Encampment was held in Indianapolis, Nov. 20, 1866, when Gen. S. A. Hurlbut was elected Commander-in-Chief. At the encampment which was held in Philadelphia, Jan. 15, 1868, Gen. Logan was elected Commander-in-Chief, which office he held for three terms, and no office of his whole life was more satisfactory than that given in behalf of his comrades at arms. While holding this office, Gen. Logan conceived the idea of setting aside the 30th of May as a day on which to commemorate the noble deeds of the defenders of the Nation during the War of the Rebellion. His idea was perfected in the General Order issued to the different Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, throughout the United States, May 5, 1868, and later while a member of Congress from Illinois, he that day made a National Holiday. In all this great work, to the very date of his death, Gen. Logan's whole heart and every energy was enlisted in behalf of the ex-soldiers. No soldier, his widow or orphan, ever appealed to him in vain, and Gen. Logan probably placed more ex-Union soldiers in positions where they could support themselves and families than any other member of the Grand Army of the Republic. On the 26th of Dec., 1886, he folded his weary arms and laid down to peaceful slumbers, after more than forty years' devotion to the affairs of his country.

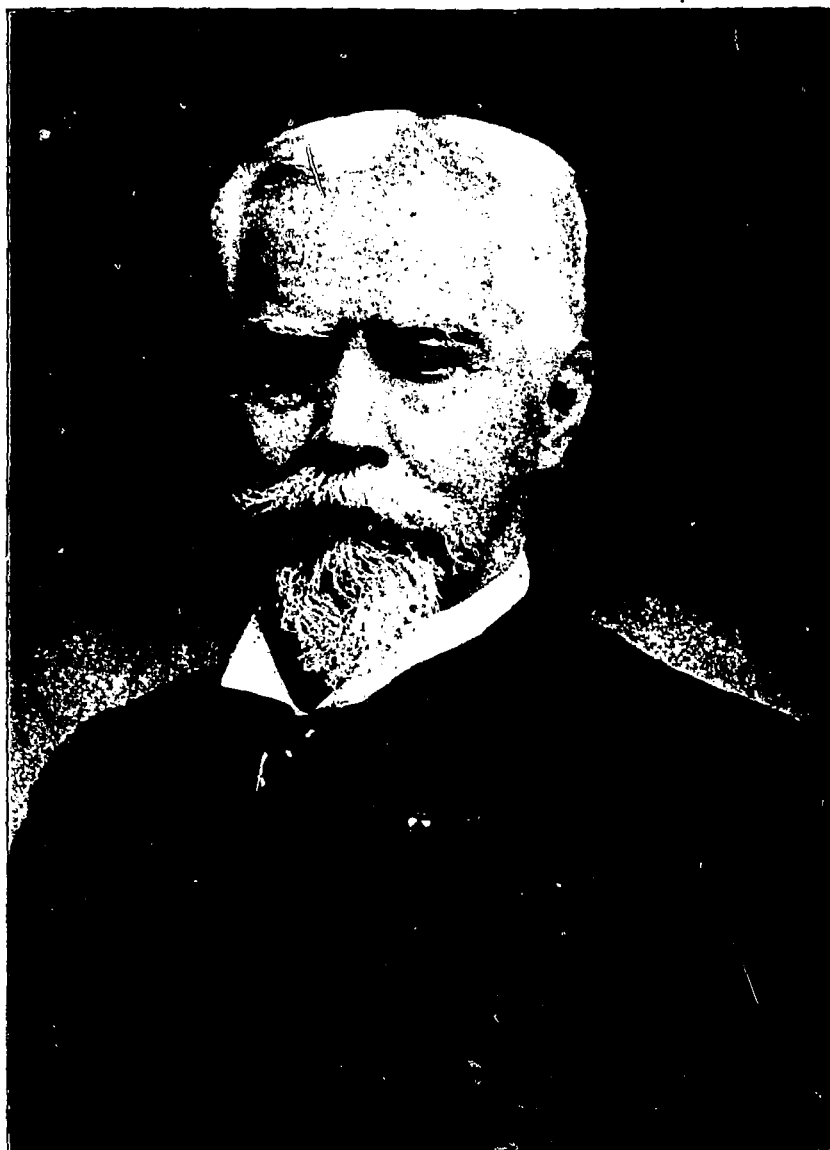

Know ye not, that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?" II Samuel, III, 38.

Died in Rockford, Ill., Feb. 3, 1908.

COL. THOMAS G. LAWLER, G. L. Nevius Post No. 1, Rockford. Col. Lawler was a native of England, born in Liverpool, April 7, 1844. His family settled in Rockford, Winnebago Co., Ill., where he grew to manhood. The pervasive patriotism of the period led him to enlist in Co. E, 19th Ill. Vol. Inf., in which he served throughout the Civil War. He participated in most of the engagements of the Army of the West and was placed on the Roll of Honor by Gen. Wm. S. Rosecranz, which contained the names of soldiers who distinguished themselves by personal bravery and soldierly conduct. He was in the battles of Perryville, Stone River, Chickamauga, Mission Ridge and through the Atlanta Campaign to the Sea, including all the battles, skirmishes and reconnaissances of those memorable campaigns. He was once slightly wounded, though his clothing was many times pierced by the enemy's bullets. The military impulse to loyalty and service he received in the Civil War followed him through his later life. He was Drill Master for the first Militia Company organized in Rockford, early became Col. of the 3d Regt. Ill. Inf. and brought both Company and Regiment to a degree of proficiency in drill and demeanor that attracted nation-wide interest and emulation. Everywhere he was the idol of the soldier and the ideal of the citizen. Soon after returning from the Army he married Fannie A. Rodd, of Rockford, Ill.; their married life was beautiful in devotion to each other, together sharing the respect of the community and the plaudits of the Nation. The love of his comrades is attested by this, that he was elected without contest thirty-nine times Commander of the local G. L. Nevius Post No. 1, G. A. R.; the succession continued to his death. No Commander ever possessed the fealty of his comrades like Col. Lawler. He was elected National Commander G. A. R. in 1894, serving with distinction throughout his entire term. He was the first National Commander to visit all Southern States. He was postmaster during every Republican administration from Pres. Hayes' time to his death. He caused the Flag to be hoisted over every school house in Winnebago county and was present at the raising and dedication of nearly all of them, regardless of season or weather. He possessed a deep religious nature that was never sullied by act or speech. He was one of the first trustees of Rockford Centennial M. E. Church and for a time its Sunday School Superintendent. He was a 32d degree Mason and held supreme office in every degree of the Order. Thus lived and passed to his reward one of the finest examples of America's Volunteer soldiers, valiantly defending his country, and, after victory, blending into exemplary and exalted citizenship.

JAMES ANDREW SEXTON, U. S. Grant Post No. 28, Chicago. Born Jan. 5, 1844, at Chicago, Ill. Enlisted as private April, 1862; promoted to 1st Lieut. Co. E, 67th Ill. Vol. Inf. June 13, 1862; promoted to Capt. Co. D, 72nd Ill. Vol. Inf. Aug. 21, 1862, and mustered out Aug. 25, 1865. Participated in battles and campaigns against Vicksburg, second battle of Iuka, Spring Hill, Siege and battle of Mobile, Ala. Most of service was in the Dept. of Tenn., 16th and 17th Army Corps. Was wounded in left leg at Spanish Fort, Ala. Assumed command of the Regt. at battle of Franklin, and remained in command during the Nashville campaign. Served on Maj.-Gen'l A. J. Smith's staff during the last 8 or 9 months of his service. Commander, Dept. of Ill., 1888; National Commander, 1898.

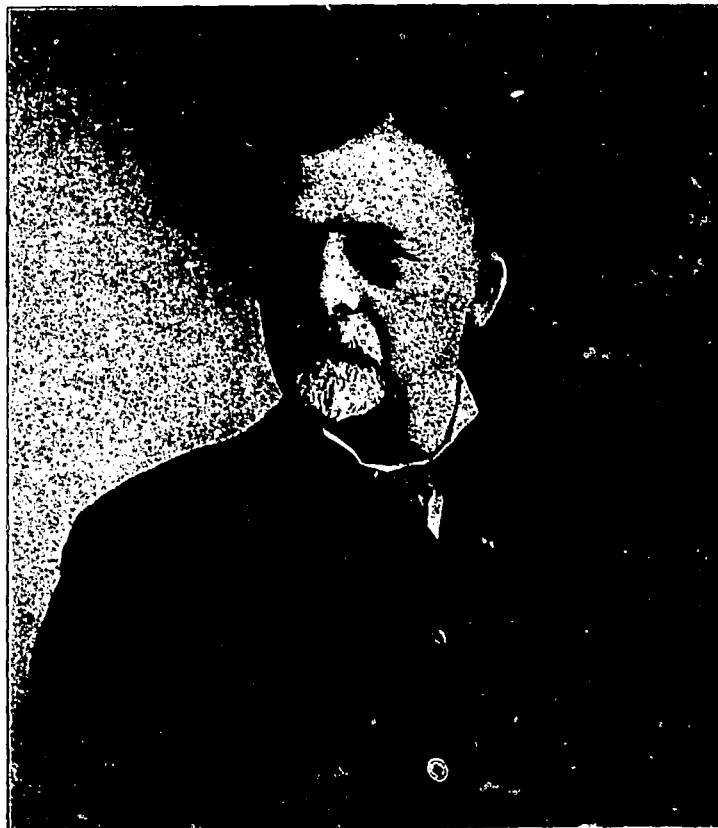

GENERAL JOHN C. BLACK, Geo. H. Thomas Post No. 5, Chicago. Was born Jan. 27, 1839, at Lexington, Holmes Co., Miss. He entered the service April 14, 1861, by enlistment, and tendered his resignation, which was received by Gen. Philip H. Sheridan in person (but against his earnest wish), on the 15th of Aug., 1865, having been engaged during the entire period of the war, save for one month between the periods of service when he was engaged in recruiting Co. K of the 37th Ill. Inf., of which he was Capt. He was also Maj., Lieut.-Col. and Col. of that regiment; Brevet Brig.-Gen'l U. S. Vols. He was also a private soldier and Sergt. Maj. in the 11th Ind., Maj. Gen'l Lew Wallace, recently deceased, being the Col., and one of his dearest and nearest military friends. He was engaged in the first fight at Romney, W. Va., on the 11th of June, 1861. It was the ninth conflict of the war. He was in the storming of Blakely Batteries on the 9th of April, 1865, at sunset. This was the last battle of the war except some unimportant engagements west of the Mississippi River. During these intervening years he served in all of the States of the South, except the two Carolinas and Georgia. He was a member, with his command, of the Army of the Potomac (auxiliary), the Army of the Tenn., the Army of the Southwest, the Army of the Frontier, and the Army of Observation on the Mexican border. WILLIAM J. DAVIS, Geo. H. Thomas Post No. 5, Chicago. Born on a farm, near Ann Arbor, Mich., on Feb. 8, 1844. His parents moved, very early in his life, to Elkhart, Ind. In the fall of 1862 he went to Baltimore, Md., and shipped as a Landsman in the U. S. N., going aboard the U. S. Mortar Schooner, Racer, of the Potomac Flotilla. The first active service he saw was after the battle of Fredericksburg, when light batteries of the Confederate Army, came over to the Potomac, near upper Cedar Point, to bombard a stranded transport loaded with troops for Washington. The Racer used her two thirty-two pounders to drive away the Confederate batteries. Mr. Davis was made paymaster's clerk. Later, in pursuing a boat-load of blockade runners and mail carriers, who had Confederate mail destined for London, Mr. Davis sustained a slight revolver wound. In the summer of 1863, the paymaster was transferred to the Mississippi Squadron. He took Mr. Davis with him to Admiral Porter's Flagship, the Black Hawk. The only fighting experienced in this squadron was when Admiral Porter collaborated with Major Gen. Banks in the Red River campaign. When Rear Admiral Lee succeeded Admiral Porter, Mr. Davis remained on the Flagship until it was burned, in the spring of 1865. By reason of the loss of books and records of the ship, it was Oct. 1865, before he could adjust accounts and be mustered out of the service.

At that place we were drilled about 2 months and then ordered to the front. Our first engagement was at Arkansas Post, then were ordered to Jackson, Miss., the beginning of the campaign against Vicksburg. After the surrender of Vicksburg we were ordered to Memphis, Tenn., then followed the battles of: Eoliver, Ripley, Guntown, Coldwater, Twin Bridges, Nashville, Eastport, Johnsonville. Was aboard the Sultanna at the time of the explosion April, 1864. Was mustered out of service September 17th, 1865.

WILLIAM JAMES KNOX BOWEN, Geo. H. Thomas Post No. 5, Chicago. Born Oct. 29, 1844, at Amsterdam, N. Y. Enlisted Sept. 10, 1861, as Private 3rd Battery Wis. Light Art., and was discharged, at end of term of enlistment, Oct. 10, 1864, at Milwaukee, Wis. Engaged in following battles and campaigns: Siege of Corinth, march from Tupelo to Chattanooga, retrograde march to Louisville, Ky., '62, Chaplin Hills (Perryville) Stone River, Chickamauga, where Battery was captured. Especially detailed with others of Battery to serve with Battery M, N. Y. Lt. Art. on the Atlanta campaign, bringing about battles of Rockyface, Resaca, Dallas, Pine Mountain, Los Mountain, New Hope Church, Culp's Farm, Kenesaw Mt., and Atlanta, Sept. 15, 1864, was returned to his original command at Chattanooga, and soon thereafter received his discharge.

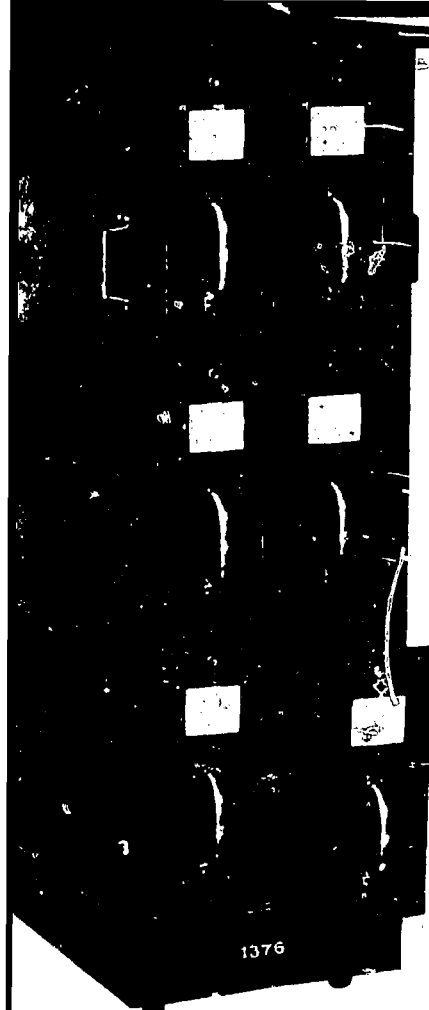

CYRUS W. POMEROY, George H. Thomas Post 5, Chicago. Born July 31st, 1844, at Galena, Illinois,—with his father Watson Y. Pomeroy settled on a farm near Nora, Joe Davies County, Illinois, where he enlisted at the age of 18 years, August 4th, 1862, as a private in Co. "K," ninety-sixth Illinois Vol. Infantry, joined to First Division Reserve Corps Army of the Cumberland, was detailed to serve the regiment as Bass Drummer up to the time Martial Music by Regimental Bands, by General Orders was dispensed with, he returned to his Company as private in the ranks.

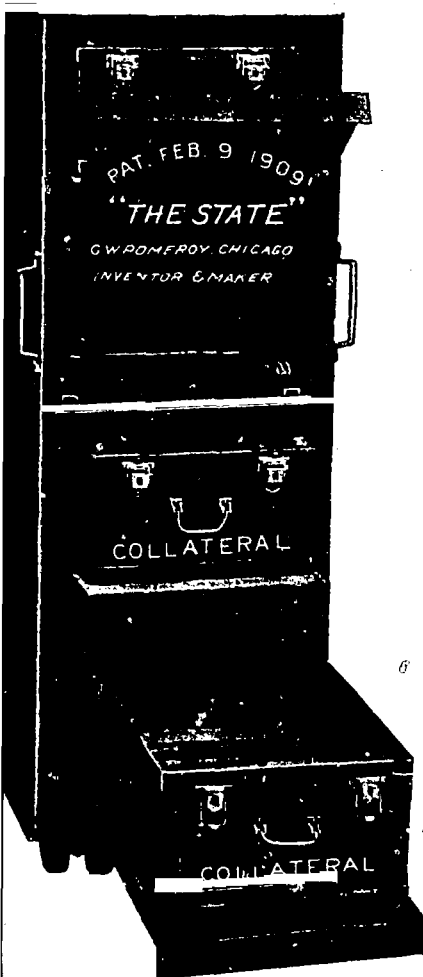

Was with the Regiment thru the many marches and campaigns in Kentucky and Tennessee and at the Battle of Chickamauga in the charges and counter charges over Snodgrass Hill was wounded Sunday, September the 20th, 1863, and it was five days before his wound could be properly dressed. Gangrene setting in, injured and destroyed five muscles above his left knee, causing him to walk on crutches and with a cane for over four years,—after two months treatment at Hospital No. 13 Nashville, Tenn., he was given a furlow to return home where he remained over two months until the General Order from Washington required him to return to his Hospital,—being still unfit for service he obtained a transfer to the Marine Hospital in Chicago, being unable for further service in the Army his father interceding, obtained a discharge from the Army June 16th, 1864.

Attended the State University at Iowa City, Iowa, and engaged in the publishing business in Chicago in 1868, and later was employed as the representative of the Western Bank Note and Engraving Company, of Chicago, for 23 years,—then resigned in 1898, and established business in Chicago to originate, design, invent, manufacture and sell Bank and Office Necessities under the title of C. W. Pomeroy Co. (Not Incorporated) as indicated on opposite side of this page.

While attending the First Encampment of the G. A. R. in the South the fiftieth anniversary day and date of the battle of Chickamauga he visited the spot where he was wounded and obtained a Sas-safras Tree cut of which a walking stick has been mounted for a Souvenir Cane.

Choice of the G. A. R.

Members of the G. A. R. were almost unanimous in their choice of route to the 47th National Encampment at Chattanooga. The Department of Illinois Special train as well as other specials from the northwest took the C. & E. I.—the famous Dixie Flyer route through "scenic southland."

The choice of the boys in blue should be good enough for you.

C. & E. I. (Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad) TO CHATTANOOGA

The Dixie Flyer is a solid through train, magnificently equipped and electric lighted throughout, leaving Dearborn Station daily at 9:10 p. m. The route is via Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta thence to Jacksonville, Florida. You arrive Chattanooga the afternoon of the next day. Arrive Jacksonville morning of the second day.
